The current State Pension system punishes countless thousands of pensioners, mostly women, for having left the workforce to care for their families.

We want a fair State Pension system. We are calling on the Minister for Social Protection to:

- Extend the Homemakers' Scheme to cover years of caring prior to 1994;
- Reverse the changes to the eligibility criteria for the State Pension introduced in 2012, which have drastically cut the incomes of tens of thousands of pensioners.
